May 2, 2012

Purpose of Briefing

- ❑ Describe the City's recent and current efforts addressing group homes
- ❑ Provide an update on identified group housing facilities in Dallas
- ❑ Discuss options and resources necessary in implementing HB216 in a new City ordinance

What is a Group Housing Facility?

- ❑ Generally, group housing facilities are interim or permanent residential dwellings that provide room/board to a group of persons who are not a family, regardless of whether operated for profit
 - The Dallas City Code defines “family” as individuals living together as a single housekeeping unit in which not more than four individuals are unrelated to the head of the household by blood, marriage, or adoption
- ❑ The Dallas City Code identifies several different types of group housing facilities
 - See Use Comparison Table, page 4

City's & State's Role and Functions

- ❑ The Dallas City Code uses different classifications for group housing facilities than the State
- ❑ The City's focus has been on premise, structural and zoning violations
 - Handicap group dwellings, when spaced less than 1000 ft, require SUP
 - ❑ Shortest straight line distance from property line to property line, without regard to intervening structures
- ❑ The State's focus is on operations and health conditions, and these facilities typically provide personal care services such as:
 - Administering medications to residents
 - Assistance for daily living activities such as eating, bathing, dressing, etc.
- ❑ The State performs inspections:
 - After receiving an initial application
 - Annually for State-licensed facilities
 - In response to reported complaints/incidents received by the State
 - When notices of violation are issued by the State and follow-up is required

State's Role and Functions on Group Homes

- The State's Department of Aging and Disability Services (DADS) licenses some facilities, such as:
 - Assisted Living Facilities
 - Continuing Care Facilities
 - Convalescent & Nursing Homes
 - Home & Community Support Services (HCS) Facilities

Background

- ❑ A multi-departmental task force on group housing facilities was created in June 2007 to coordinate the City's inspection/enforcement process, report results, and make recommendations
- ❑ In response to final recommendations by the task force in 2008, the City's 2009 Legislative Agenda sought authority to regulate 6 types of state-licensed group facilities by:
 - Requiring applicants for state license be approved by a local official for compliance with municipal ordinances – Not Adopted
 - Requiring facilities to post state license and a sign that specifies complaint procedures – Adopted by House Bill 216 only for facilities not licensed by the state
 - Allowing cities to inspect group homes for compliance with state law – Adopted by House Bill 216 only for facilities not licensed by the state
 - Allowing cities to file suit for injunctions, damages, civil penalties, court costs, and attorneys' fees against the owner and operators of a facility in violation of state law or municipal ordinance – Not Adopted
 - Establishing procedures for emergency closure of facilities operating without license and creating an immediate threat to the health/safety of a resident – Not Adopted
 - Allowing the state agency, local district attorney, county attorney, or city attorney to request a court to appoint a trustee to operate a group facility as an alternative to closure – Not Adopted

Background

- HB 216, adopted in 2009, allows the City to regulate boarding home facilities not licensed by the State, but did not fully achieve the City's recommendations
 - City's 2011 legislative agenda included recommendations to strengthen and clarify HB 216, however they were not adopted
- In FY 09-10, Code Compliance assumed responsibility for coordinating multi-department inspections of group facilities

On-going City Enforcement

- ❑ For every group housing facility the City identifies, a uniform intake form is used to gather information
- ❑ Group facilities can be difficult to find and the City uses various methods to identify them:
 - Inspecting previously identified residential group facilities to verify on-going operation and compliance
 - Information gathered from hospitals, other care agencies, and State Department of Aging & Disability Services (DADS)
 - 3-1-1 Calls – complaints and concerns reported by residents are inspected to identify residential group facilities and coordinate multi-departmental inspections as necessary
- ❑ Data is used to maintain a database of information for various city departments

On-going City Enforcement

- ❑ In FY09-10, approximately 400 properties were identified and assessed as potential group facilities
- ❑ As of March 2012, 327 properties are being tracked by City staff (see map in Appendix)
 - 231 group facilities are currently identified as operational
 - ❑ 194 handicapped group dwelling units
 - ❑ 5 lodging and boarding houses
 - ❑ 19 residential hotels
 - ❑ 13 group residential facilities
 - An additional 96 properties had 5 or fewer unrelated residents at time of inspection, technically making them a single family use
 - ❑ Staff continues monitoring for number of residents and any code violations

On-going City Enforcement

- Action by Code Compliance and the City Attorney's Office has yielded the following results on group homes since 2008
 - 6 group homes have ceased operation
 - 3 group homes have come into compliance after litigation
 - 14 group homes have voluntarily come into compliance
 - 1 group home operator with 7 group homes is currently suing the City, seeking to invalidate the 8-person limit for handicapped group dwellings

On-going City Enforcement

- ❑ As of March 2012, 26 of the 231 identified facilities were found to have significant violations, including:
 - Lack of State license (1 location in violation)
 - Zoning regulations (24 locations in violation)
 - ❑ 12 locations less than 1000' from another without SUP
 - ❑ 4 locations that have more than 8 residents
 - ❑ 8 locations that need a Certificate of Occupancy to operate as a Group Residential Facility
 - Code Violations (1 location with structural violations)
- ❑ Status of enforcement presently taken at the 26 facilities with violations:
 - Code Compliance issued 32 notices and 4 citations
 - Fire & Rescue issued 32 notices; 9 are still open but expected to be in compliance within the timeframe given to the owner/operator
 - City referred 1 location to DADS

On-going City Enforcement

- Apart from common code violations, other issues often include:
 - Residents who appear incoherent or under influence of drugs or alcohol loitering in neighborhoods
 - Large numbers of unfamiliar persons living or visiting these facilities
 - Frequent calls for police and EMS
 - Behavior and visibility of group home operation does not fit in with more typical families in neighborhoods

HB216

- HB216 allows cities to adopt ordinances to enhance regulation of boarding home facilities
 - A Boarding Home Facility is an establishment that:
 - Furnishes lodging to three or more persons who are unrelated to the owner by blood or marriage; and
 - Does not provide *personal care services; however, may provide community meals, light housework, meal preparation, transportation, grocery shopping, money management, laundry services, or assistance with self-administration of medication

- HB216 imposes specific requirements on boarding home facilities, including:
 - Annual permitting and comprehensive inspections
 - Re-inspections based on complaints
 - Maintenance of certain records
 - Posting of certain signs and documents
 - Compliance with certain model housing and health standards
- HB216 does not address zoning or spacing requirements
- HB216 requirements are outlined in the appendix

Limits of Proposed Ordinance

- ❑ HB216 relies on owners/operators to self-report on injuries, allegations of abuse, management of residents' finances, etc.
 - City usually cannot verify incidents without police or EMS reports
- ❑ Conditions can change daily inside boarding homes, and periodic inspections can't identify all violations
 - Once an inspection is complete, continuous compliance until the next inspection is not assured
- ❑ Inspectors cannot enter boarding houses without permission
 - If denied entry, a search warrant based on probable cause is required
 - ❑ Police would be dispatched to aid in serving warrant
 - ❑ Operators may hide/disguise violations before warrant is served and entry is gained

Limits of Proposed Ordinance

- ❑ HB216 prohibits City from applying ordinance to certain facilities:
 - Assisted living and other State-licensed and/or funded facilities
 - Retirement communities, child-care facilities, family violence shelters
 - Religious facilities and facilities providing care and treatment of the sick who depend solely on spiritual healing
- ❑ As a result, ordinance cannot regulate 100 of the 327 facilities monitored by the City

Enforcement

- Enforcement actions
 - Give notices of violation and citations
 - Suspend or revoke boarding house permits
 - Affected residents would be evicted instead of allowing a receiver to operate the facility, as the City requested from the Legislature
 - File civil lawsuits seeking injunctions and civil penalties

Alternative Enforcement Options

- ❑ Continue to pursue legislative goals not adopted previously
 - Require applicants for state license be approved by a local official for compliance with municipal ordinances
 - Allow cities to file suit for injunctions, damages, civil penalties, court costs, and attorneys' fees against the owner and operators of a facility in violation of state law or municipal ordinance
 - Establish procedures for emergency closure of facilities operating without license and creating an immediate threat to the health or safety of residents
 - Allow the state agency, local district attorney, county attorney, or city attorney to request a court to appoint a trustee to operate a group facility as an alternative to closure

Alternative Enforcement Options

- Consider ordinance creating offense by owner and operator when residents create nuisance or disrupt neighbors
 - City Attorney researching this option
- Develop incentive program to promote model facilities through referrals to hospitals and care agencies
 - Good neighbor agreement

Implementation

- ❑ Estimated Costs: $1,158,444/yr (See Appendix)
 - Funds a team of code inspectors, caseworkers, support staff and equipment for comprehensive, annual permit inspections and response to complaints
 - ❑ Revised to increase caseworkers, and utilize current supervisory staff
 - Provides necessary capacity to regulate 300 boarding homes through:
 - ❑ Annual, comprehensive inspections and permits
 - ❑ Once-monthly follow-up inspections at each house
 - ❑ Response to suspected boarding houses identified through citizen complaints and city staff
 - ❑ Monthly visits to 79 sites that refer patients to boarding houses
 - ❑ Legal support for inspections, permitting and enforcement
 - ❑ Does not include costs for Police, Fire, or EMS services

Implementation
